NEWS OF THE HOUR

CRAFT ARRIVING AND DEPARTING IN AND FROM ASTORIA
—AND THEIR MASTERS, MEN AND MESSAGES

The report that a loaded American three-masted ship was outside yesterday afternoon, has given rise to the belief that it is the salmon ship Berlin, with the Warren pack on board, and bound for Goble. If it is the Berlin she made it in good time from Nushagak, having left there on the 24th of August, or just 15 days out, which may have been done with strong and steady winds. Should it prove to be her, the last of the Columbia-Alaska fleet will have arrived home.

The French bark Cornil Bart arrived in yesterday from Hobart, and is anchored off the Tongue. She went out from this port, in ballast, last spring and sailed to Tasmania, and New Caledonia, and back, in ballast, the same she took out; searching for cargo, and making more money under the French bounty system for miles traversed, than if she had found a charter. She will go on to Portland today, on the hawsers of the Harvest Queen.

The big Hammond liner Geo. W. Fenwick, is taking on a San Francisco cargo at the Hammond mill docks at Tongue Point. The steamer Cascades is also loading there, with the same destination.

Harold Bain has been appointed freight clerk on the steamer Lurline, vice Jack Moran, resigned. The Lurline was down on time last evening, and went back with plenty of business, at 7 o'clock.

The Geo. R. Vosburg, with a big barge load of round timbers, has arrived from the Nehalem, and leaving her barge at the Parker dock, has gone on to Portland, for a load of supplies.

The clearance of the steamer J. Marhofer, with 750,000 feet of lumber loaded at Linton, Astoria and Rainier, was recorded at the custom house yesterday. The Marhofer is bound for San Francisco.

The British steamship Boveric entered port yesterday from San Francisco, and went direct to the Columbia mill dock at Knappton, to load out lumber for Australia.

The steamer Johan Poulsen came in from San Francisco yesterday afternoon and after discharging several tons of freight at the Callender pier, went on to Portland.

The steamer St. Helens cleared from this port yesterday with grain and lumber from Portland and Rainier, for the Bay City.

The Elmore motor schooner Evie went out yesterday morning for the lower coast country, laden with general merchandise.

The Gerald C. left up for Portland yesterday, to have a general, annual overhauling, and will return down in about a week or 10 days.

The British steamship Strathlyon is due down from Portland sometime today, bound for the Orient, with a cargo of wheat.

STRAY BULLET ENTERS
VAN DUSEN HOME

MISSIVE SHATTERS KITCHEN WINDOW AND MIGHT JUST AS WELL HAVE KILLED SOME ONE.

A bullet fired by some unknown person shattered a window in the home of H. G. Van Dusen, at 536 Harrison avenue, at an early hour yesterday morning. That it was a stray bullet is quite probable, of course, but none the less it might have done serious damage. The police were notified of the episode but their efforts to ascertain who it was that fired the shot were unavailing.

At about 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning Mr. Van Dusen was sitting in a chair reading the morning paper, when he suddenly heard a sound as of shattering glass. He hastily arose and made an investigation, and in the kitchen found a window that had been perforated and more or less shattered by a bullet. He went out and looked around the neighborhood from whence the missive must have come, but could not find anybody who had heard a shot or knew anything about the matter.

Returning to the house Mr. Van Dusen again sat down in the chair where he had been when the shot was fired, and a moment later Mrs. Van Dusen saw something on a sofa which attracted her attention. It proved to be a bullet, more or less flattened out of shape. How the bullet found its way to the sofa is a mystery to Mr. Van Dusen. It must, apparently, have struck the very chair in which he was sitting, and to reach the chair it must have passed through three doors. Evidently it had been deflected in its course until finally striking some resisting surface, it dropped or bounded onto the lounge. The occurrence seems to be simply another of the many cases of careless shooting that is but too prevalent in and around Astoria. Some boy may have fired the shot, and it is known that boys are in the habit of discharging fire-arms within the city limits. Or the shot may have come from laborers who were working up on the heights at the time. In the hope that the miscreant who fired the shot may be discovered, or that the action may have some deterrent effect upon others in the future, Mr. Van Dusen said last evening that he will give a reward of $10 for proof of the identity of the person. It is probable that this sum would be doubled by others in the neighborhood, who feel alarm over the matter of flying bullets. It was only recently that some Italian laborers fired several shots directly at Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ridehalgh as they were taking a walk near the City Park.

FARMER IS ACCUSED OF USING REVOLVER

JOHN A. EKSTROM SECURES A WARRANT FOR ARREST OF FRED HARTMAN.

A warrant was sworn out in the justice court yesterday afternoon against Fred Hartman, a prominent farmer out near Svenson, charging him with assault with a deadly weapon. The complaint was made by John A. Ekstrom, also a well-known farmer of that district, and it is understood that behind the formal complaint lies a charge that Hartman shot at Ekstrom's son with a revolver.

The two men have been in trouble before and once before Hartman had Ekstrom arrested. The trouble seems to have arisen over the opening of the new county road there, and incidentally over the question of fences and cattle that stray.

Hartman is said to be now in Portland, where he also has interests, and no attempt will be made to serve the warrant until his return. The men are neighbors.

NORTH SIDE NEWS

Miss J. M. Williamson, of Ilwaco, is the accredited representative of The Astorian and will take care of all items of news, orders for subscriptions and all kinds of printing.

ILWACO

The general exodus from the beautiful summer resorts of Long Beach, Ocean Park and Seaview was most perceptible last week; cottages are closing, the hostleries have practically all closed their doors, refreshment stands, and places of amusement are silent and storm blinds are being rapidly put up all along the line. The T. J. Potter discontinued her run the first of the week, and after Monday only the Hassalo will carry passengers up the river. Nevertheless a few families and visitors will remain during the month of September, but the season at North Beach may really be considered closed.

Work was begun Monday on the public road, over the hill, en route to the beach. The hill will be graded down about 5 or 6 feet and the dirt will be used in filling up hollow places along the road. A large force of men and teams have been put to work and the road will soon be nearing completion.

Pastor Brevicek, of the Lutheran church, at Chinook, who for the past year has been a great sufferer from rheumatism, will, in the near future, leave for a climate better suited to his ailment. He will be greatly missed by friends and acquaintances.

David Hood, traveling salesman for Mason, Ehrman & Co., of Portland, is suffering from a severe case of blood poison in his foot, caused by a rusty nail, but with careful medical treatment perhaps it will not prove serious.

Mr. Steve Miller and wife residents of Centerville during the past summer accompanied by their two guests, Miss Maud Chilcoat and Lillian Jolliffe, left the first of the week for their home in Portland.

Solomon Michael is at present filling Mr. Seaborg's place at the Aberdeen Store in Ilwaco. Mr. Seaborg is enjoying his vacation in Southern Oregon and is expected home in a couple of weeks.

Mrs. W. A. Graham is visiting with her parents in Oysterville. On her return she will be accompanied home by Miss Mary Miller of North Beach, who will be her guest for several days.

School begun here Monday with all teachers here except one. The enrollment of scholars was very good, although several who will attend school this winter are at present, out of town.

Mrs. C. L. De Long returned the latter part of the week from Vancouver, Wash., where she placed her two children in the Providence Academy for the ensuing term.

Work was completed this week in the logging camp of Geo. L. Colwell near Ilwaco. Mr. Colwell will move his logging machinery to a new place of action.

Mr. Coe and family arrived recently home in Ilwaco. Mr. Coe will have charge of the mess house at the Peat Plant, as soon as they commence work.

The J. Wesley Ladds have closed their beautiful beach residence, at the "Willows" near Seaview, and have returned to their home in Portland.

Sunday a very jolly crowd of pleasure seekers from Ilwaco visited Sand Island, and sailed over shortly after noon and returned in the evening. Mrs. Edward Hawkins is assisting Miss Whitcomb in the postoffice, Juring Mr. and Mrs. Seaborg's sojourn in Southern Oregon.

W. A. Fowler was a business visitor to Astoria the first of the week attending to the interests of his employer George L. Colwell.

Work was begun Tuesday on the Ilwaco Railroad Company's boom at Ilwaco, with Mr. Wm. and Jas. Vaughn in charge.

Miss Ruth Williams of South Bend has recently been a guest of her sister, Mrs. Alfred Osborne, of Nahcotta.

Civic League In Session—

There was an interesting session of the Astoria Civic Improvement League at the parlors of the First Presbyterian church last evening, when a goodly number of the large membership answered the call sent out. By some misunderstanding, it was supposed that last evening was the date fixed by the constitution for the annual election of officers; but upon discovery of the error, the meeting resolved itself into an informal group of interested Astoria citizens, and proceeded to discuss men and things and dates and prospective engagements, political, social, civic, all with a tendency to more distinctive treatment at the meeting called for two weeks hence. There were 28 new members taken in last evening, and the league is in flourishing condition in all ways.
